

Plum Grove Seeking Volunteer Interpreters

Plum Grove Historic Home, the home of Robert Lucas, Iowa's First Territorial Governor, needs volunteers to conduct tours for visitors to the 1844-53 period home. Interested people should be able to serve at least two afternoons (1pm-5pm) a month from May through October. Training will be provided. Serving as a Plum Grove Interpreter is an exciting opportunity to meet people and become involved with an important community landmark while at the same time explore the way of life of another era. Please consider helping us to interpret this significant landmark. Plum Grove Historic Home is located at 1030 Carroll St. in Iowa City.

If you are interested in becoming a Plum Grove Interpreter and would like more information, please call Alex at the Johnson County Historical Society at 319-351-5738 or e-mail to alexandra@johnsoncountyhistory.org
